Document Advantage Corporation, the leading provider of on-demand document and business process management, will be demonstrating how to protect mission critical documents at the National Hurricane Conference in Orlando, FL on April 3-4, 2008.

DocuVantage OnDemand™ provides organizations an easy, affordable, and secure application to electronically capture, share, and protect their documents and information. DocuVantage OnDemand™ is a SaaS (Software as a Service) application so users don't need to worry about purchasing hardware or involving IT resources.

The application provides complete disaster recovery of data. In case of disaster, organizations' data and documents are protected and can be accessed immediately. Business operations are not at risk due to data loss and business continuity is maintained.

Features of DocuVantage OnDemand™ include:

Secure, reliable data and document storage to protect mission critical documents.

Web document capture allowing users to upload, securely share and distribute documents from anywhere.

Records management for managing document retention compliance for further business protection.

Visit us in Booth 824 to find out how we can help you ensure your business continuity.
